Learn more about NCCCO's response to COVID-19 (<https://web.archive.org/web/20200414094602/https://nccco.org/covid-19>) (updated March 31, 2020).

NCCCO has implemented an organizational restructure within our Testing Services department with a goal of improving the user experience and streamlining submission of testing related documentation. Due to a transition of processes, this has led to a temporary delay in processing practical exam scores. We apologize for this delay and anticipate an improvement no later than the end of April. Anyone experiencing major issues should contact NCCCO's Director, Testing Services, Marc Hone, mhone@nccco.org (<https://web.archive.org/web/20200414094602/mailto:mhone@nccco.org>), or NCCCO's Director, Customer Service, Tara Whittington, twhittington@nccco.org (<https://web.archive.org/web/20200414094602/mailto:twhittington@nccco.org>). We thank you for your understanding and appreciate your patience.

Officially Recognized by Federal OSHA since 1999

The agreement between OSHA and NCCCO was the first of its kind and recognizes CCO certification as meeting OSHA's and ASME's operator qualification requirements.
