About FETC[®], a reimagined online event for education technology teams

To say that these are unusual times in education would be an understatement. With the unpredictable impact of COVID-19, educators across the country have been forced to pivot constantly. FETC is committed to you — our dedicated community of innovators, life-long learners and problem-solvers. We want you to have the insights, resources and training to be successful as you continue to navigate through your “new normal.”

We are here for you. FETC 2021 will be a fully interactive — FREE — virtual multi-day conference experience using state-of-the-art technology — not just a series of canned webinars. You'll hear from blockbuster keynoters, learn from top experts and innovators in education technologies, experience AI-based networking to build your PLN, and explore the cutting-edge FETC Virtual Expo where solution providers will demonstrate all the latest apps, hardware, software and tech tools to help your school or district emerge stronger in this new era.

Check back frequently! Agenda and expo details will be released in the coming weeks.
